

Former McGillivray Official Died on Sunday

Brought From Alexo for Burial at Blairmore—Masonic Honors Accorded by Summit Lodge.

Mr. David Davidson, aged 60 years, mine-manager of Alexo Coal Co., and former mine manager of McGillivray Coal Co., Coleman, from 1918 to 1928, died at Alexo on Sunday.

The body was brought to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gillies, his sister-in-law, arriving here by train at 1.10 a. m. Wednesday, and after a short funeral service at the Gillies home, attended by many old friends besides members of the family, the funeral procession motored to Blairmore cemetery where deceased's wife was buried nearly 18 years ago, when the family lived at Bellevue, where Mr. Davidson was an official of the West Canadian Co.

Summit Lodge, A. F. & A. M., turned out and accorded Masonic burial honors, the service being conducted by the master of the lodge, Walter S. Purvis, and Albert F. Short, past district deputy grand master.

Rev. Roy Taylor, B. A., B. D., pastor of St. Paul's United church, conducted the service at the house and the committal service at the cemetery.

Despite the sub-zero temperature, a large number of cars made the trip to Blairmore.

Deceased was born in Fifeshire, Scotland, and came to Canada in 1911. He is survived by two daughters, Margaret, (Mrs. Alex. Muir) of Alexo, and Katherine, (Mrs. Victor Wallace) of Calgary, and two sons, Robert, of Mercoal, and Blyth, of Alexo, all of whom were present at the funeral, as well as Mr. Alex. Muir and Mr. Wallace.

Mr. Andrew A. Millar, chief inspector of mines, a brother-in-law of the late Mr. Davidson, and Miss Mercer, a sister-in-law, were also here.

Many floral tributes from relatives, friends, and organizations bore testimony to the widespread respect in which deceased was held in the province.

Card of Thanks

We desire to thank our friends for their kindness, words of sympathy and floral offerings in our late bereavement in the death of our beloved father, David Davidson.—Margaret, Kathleen, Bob, and Blyth.

"The Man Who Knew

THE PEN is mightier than the sword, likewise The Press is mightier than radio and all other substitute forms of legitimate newspaper advertising and publicity. The reason is that people sit down quietly and read newspapers in their homes, therefore the influence of the printed word is impressed on the mind when the reader is in a receptive mood. That's why The Journal is found in Coleman homes, stores and offices.

Living So No One Will Believe It

By John Edwin Price

memory for twenty years.

It stood out in bold relief in the mind's eye when we read the first installment of "Jasfie Tells All" in Liberty for January 18th.

If you see a dining room china closet in which the lines are not true, with gaping joints you know it just couldn't have been made by one who for fifty years had habitually made cabinet work with true lines and perfect joints.

People unacquainted with Jasfie's life-long ideals, tendencies and habits have insinuated that he might have had something to do with the Lindberg kidnapping.

Such a thing is just impossible in a life that goes out in habitual helpfulness and tender consideration of the welfare of others. Fiendish hurting of a little child could not even be mentally entertained by one who has given years to carefully coaching children against life's possible harms.

A person never knows when he is going to be thrice-glad that established ways of wholesome thinking and acting will stand him in good stead.

Former Liberal Candidate Writes

From Donald J. MacNeil, Liberal candidate in the last provincial election for Rocky Mountain, who is now geologist for Winfield Placers, Kelowna, B. C., comes a cheery letter. He states: "My thoughts of the campaign are indeed pleasant when I recall the number of wonderful friends that so kindly helped in every way possible. I look forward eagerly each week for The Journal, and may I take this opportunity to congratulate you on the splendid job you did in connection with the Christmas number."

Vimy Pilgrimage

Peter Smith, secretary of the Canadian Legion, Coleman branch, states that those intending to book passage must have their applications in for the special steamship and rail rate by April 16, with final payment. The combined rate will be approximately $220 for the round trip, and those desiring forms for application may secure them from Mr. Smith.

It is reported Alberta leads with bookings, and about 5,000 from the Dominion are expected to go overseas for the unveiling

ADVERTISE IN THE JOURNAL

A New Year Message From Windsor, Ontario

Windsor, Ontario,

January 9, 1936.

Dear Mr. Editor:

We thank you most sincerely for the very interesting and rapidly rising Journal.

We wish also to thank Mrs. Gentile for having subscribed for us at such an opportune time to receive the Christmas edition, which was certainly attractive.

The Journal recalls the birthplace of all my family and many a merry day spent in the good old "Wild and Woolly West."

There are many pioneers such as I that are also mentioned since the year 1906, when I was railroad foreman in Crow's Nest sub-division and also with the Coal company. We have been away from Coleman for almost 6 years, and in memory it seems as if it were only yesterday, but Father Time tells a different story.

My family and I join in wishing Mrs. Gentile and family and your staff and all the pioneer friends that recall us, joy and prosperity, and may your paper never cease its good work.

Yours sincerely,

Chas. Scarpelli and family.

Social Creditors Hear Speakers

Social Creditors met on Thursday in the Community hall, and were addressed by Rev. Roy Taylor, M. L. A., for Pincher Creek; David Hoyle, and Mrs. Gostick, M. L. A., of Calgary. Lewis Jones was chairman. Musical selections were given by several local young ladies and the meeting passed off very pleasantly. Various phases of the Social Credit platform were dealt with by the speakers. Rev. Roy Taylor stated that S.C. supporters and leaders should be big enough to take criticism as well as give it, and he would maintain that attitude in dealing with public affairs.

Lethbridge must have a bunch of "hicks" who can't take it. Coleman can set a better example than that shown on Saturday night when the Leafs were trimmed by Canadians. Throwing eggs at players and officials is what might be expected of imbeciles. Lethbridge sports writer might copy this just to show up the few cheap-skate losers who were guilty of a rotten trick.

May Abandon Annual Revision Of Federal Voters' List

Ottawa.—Abandonment of annual revisions of the federal voters' list was being predicted here as a result of a survey of members of parliament conducted by Harry Butcher, former Liberal member for Last Mountain, Sask.

The government commissioned the former member to investigate all phases of election machinery and one of his first actions was to send out a questionnaire to all members. Mr. Butcher announced that 90 per cent. of the members replying favored abandonment of annual revisions, which cost about $500,000 a year.

Almost unanimously members from rural ridings took exception to closed lists. Mr. Butcher said, and were joined by many urban members. They agreed too many voters were left off the list and the machinery was too costly and cumbersome.

Both the closed list and annual revision were provided by the Bennett government in a general overhauling of the election machinery. If the Butcher survey is any indication, both will be abandoned in the next year or two, certainly the annual revision.

A British Columbia veteran said he would prevent eastern newspapers and agencies publishing election results until the far-western polls were closed.

Level Crossings

Large Sum Is Set Aside To Eliminate Danger Spots Across Canada

Ottawa.—Waging war on railway level crossings which have been taking an increasing annual toll of human lives, a total of $1,400,000 approximately was committed in 1935 for remedial works across Canada. It was estimated. The sum represents an increase of about $500,000 over 1934 commitments.

Twenty-five per cent. of the $1,400,000 has been actually expended. The balance will be spent in 1936 as work on the authorized projects is carried out.

Of the estimated $1,400,000 probably $1,100,000 has been earmarked out of Dominion treasury funds. The Canadian Pacific Railway, Canadian National Railway and the municipalities have undertaken to put up the difference.

Showing amounts of Dominion commitments, ranging from 40 to 100 per cent. of the total cost in different instances. Major works in the west authorized by the government-in-council in the last five months alone included:

Near Scottsburg, Sask., on C.P.R., $24,750.
Cepe, Sask., on C.N.R., $21,000.
Near Kinley, Sask., on C.N.R., $15,400.

West of Mounsell, Alta., on Crow's Nest subdivision, C.P.R., $14,000.
One mile west of Lundbreck, Alta., on Crow's Nest subdivision of C.P.R., $10,500.

Widespread Damage Results From Storms Around British Isles

London.—At least eight persons were killed, many injured and widespread damage done by the second violent storm of this week in the British Isles.

The small cargo steamer Bradda, voyaging from Birkenhead to Ireland, foundered off Forbury Point in the River Mersey. Only one of the crew of six was saved. Five bodies believed to be those of the other members of the crew, were washed ashore.

Two persons were killed by a falling tree at Ravenstall and a girl was killed in the collapse of a wall at Manchester.

The Channel steamer Bodinla reported she was standing by the trawler William Humphries, in danger off the Pembrokeshire coast.

The gale reached a force of 100 miles per hour, Pembrokeshire lighthouse reported. Ships were sent scurrying to shelter from huge waves, while damage ashore was heavy.

Southwest England and the Irish Free State were the hardest hit. A fierce storm swept the Dublin district, causing much damage, while mountainous snow in the English

Considering Amendments

Cabinet Opinion Not Unanimous On Public Bank Issue

Ottawa.—Amendments to the Bank of Canada Act, necessary to change this institution from a privately owned to a publicly owned bank are being considered carefully by members of the government. So far the subject has not been discussed in cabinet nor at any conferences between members of the government and Graham Towers, governor of the bank. A canvass of cabinet opinion indicated wide differences of view on this question.

It would appear that the feeling against buying in the stock now held by the public is very strong and that the amendments if and when they are brought down will go as far as was generally believed.

Prison Farm Quarantined

Outbreak Of Scarlet Fever In R.C. Institution

Vancouver—Oakalla prison farm has been quarantined to visitors and seven male prisoners isolated following an outbreak of scarlet fever in the Burnaby institution, prison officials said here.

Five of those isolated are definitely known to be affected while the other two showed symptoms. Officials termed the outbreak "very mild" but said every precaution was being taken.

There are 460 men and women at the prison farm.

Bringing Higher Price

Farm Horses Are Selling Better States—Montreal Dealer

Montreal.—Farm horses from the prairies, Ontario and Quebec brought "a little stronger" prices compared with sales of a year ago, it was announced by A. S. Stewart who saw some 300 change hands at his auction arena.

The first such auction in five years saw prices averaging from $80 to $115, said Mr. Stewart, who considered it "a fair price, though shippers claim they can't make any profit at these rates."

Ducks Eat Crops

And So Farmers Want Recompense From Government

Calgary.—Farmers who suffer crop losses of 25 per cent. or more from the ravages of game birds should be compensated by either the provincial or Dominion government, the Kerdale, Alta., local of the United Farmers of Alberta urged in a resolution received here to be brought before the U.F.A. annual convention. The resolution said farmers north of the Peace River suffer heavy losses as a result of game birds, particularly ducks, eating their crops.

Short Of Objective

Plans For Canadian Women's Memorial Building Have Been Abandoned

Ottawa.—Due to existing economic circumstances the erection of the Canadian women's memorial building in Ottawa has been abandoned, it was announced by Alastair Macdonald, solicitor for the Canadian Women's Memorial Building Federation. Funds contributed for that purpose will be distributed according to the direction of the courts, he said.

The purpose of collection of funds throughout Canada when the federation was formed in November, 1928, was to erect a building to commemorate suitably the services rendered by Canadian women to humanity from pioneer days to the present time.

Mr. Macdonald said approximately $25,000 had been contributed toward the building fund, $10,000 short of the objective.

Market For Poultry

Britain Can Absorb Fifty Million Pounds Of Canadian Poultry Every Year

Ottawa.—The United Kingdom offers a market for 50,000,000 pounds of Canadian poultry every year, according to W. A. Brown, chief of the poultry service, department of agriculture, who has arrived here after an overseas inspection trip.

"No country," Brown said, "is so well equipped to supply Britain with quality poultry as Canada, because no country has progressed so far in putting up a pack of poultry based on national standards of grading and packing. Further, all poultry from the Dominion is admitted free and imports from foreign countries have to overcome a tariff barrier of six cents per pound."

No Corporation Tax

Ontario Government Will Impose No Levy On Corporations

Toronto.—The new Ontario income tax will impose no levy on corporation income as does the federal tax, it was reported at Queen's Park.

Although the Ontario legislation follows closely the Dominion statute there will be no provisions similar to the federal tax on the income of corporations, the report said. Ontario already has a corporation tax.

About 100,000 persons will be liable to pay income tax under the proposed legislation and from these it is expected a total of about $12,000,000 will be realized.

More Coal Shipped

Report Shows 119,008-Ton Increase From Drumheller Valley

Drumheller, Alta.—During the five-month domestic coal shipping period, Aug. 1 to Dec. 31, 1935, 3,502 more carloads of coal were shipped from the Drumheller valley than in the corresponding period of 1934, according to a report issued here. Although 34 tons to a car, there was an increase of 119,068 tons for the 1935 period compared with the five months of 1934. Last year 22,105 cars were shipped.

Motor Regulations

Drivers' License Fee Of One Dollar Per Year In Alberta

Edmonton.—Premier Aberhart announces that 1936 motor licenses would be good for 15 months, but a driver's license fee of $1 per year would be required. At present driver's licenses cost 50 cents and issued in perpetuity. At the same time, the premier announced that a tax would be imposed on all grades of fuel oil, but this does not affect the lubricating oil used by motor cars.

Long urged by the Alberta Motor Association, Premier Aberhart announced that the motor license year would be changed to conform with the fiscal year ending March 31. Legislation for these changes will be introduced at the coming session of the legislature, the premier said.

Italian Deserters

Report That Nearly 2,000 Soldiers Cross Austrian Border

Vienna.—Reports that nearly 2,000 deserters from the Italian army had fled across the border into Austria circulated here, but there was no immediate verification of the rumors, nor of reports that the Italian government was taking repressive measures.

The newspaper Sudetende Heimat announced 1,650 South Tyroleans had deserted the Italian army, with most of them making their way to Germany.

The publication is circulated secretly in Austria, reaching here from Switzerland where it is printed.

Reports from Maribor place the number of deserters reaching Yugoslavia at 2,000.

Outfitting Giant Liner

Glasgow.—Linen, cotton and woollen articles for the giant liner Queen Mary to the value of $225,000 are being made in the north of England and Belfast, the number being nearly 500,000.

LINK WITH THE PAST IN DANGER

Gangs of men will be working day and night for the next three or four months to save the half-timbered frontage of Staple Inn, Holborn, London's best known relic of Tudor architecture, which has been seriously ravaged by the death watch beetle. Our picture shows scaffolding going around the front of the old inn.

Heavy Wheat Exports And Increased Demand Is Reducing Surplus

Winnipeg.—Canadian wheat growers scented new wealth in strong exports of wheat and reports of increasing demand for the Canadian cereal from London and Antwerp markets as well as in Brazil and Greece.

Noting higher prices than existed a year ago and gradually declining stocks on hand, traders were finding strong grounds for hope the carry-over would be near normalcy when the end of the crop year rolls around July 31, 1936.

The board of grain commissioners' report, issued at Fort William, showed December exports of 13,288,863 bushels of wheat compared with 8,100,132 for the same month a year ago. While the Dominion bureau of statistics reports the calendar year exports showed declines, their value to producers was greater. Prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange were four cents a bushel higher than a year ago and 23 cents a bushel higher than two years ago.

A dispatch from London declared demand for Canadian wheat for spring shipment was developing because of the growing shortage of wheat in other countries except Canada. The board of grain commissioners' report pointed out large tonnage for January and February was being chartered.

"Realization the bulk of the world's wheat export surplus now remains in the hands of Canada and Australia has resulted in large volume of tonnage reported for January and February," said the grain commission's report. "Tonnage chartered for Vancouver shipments totalled approximately 12,500,000 bushels, all for January and February loading."

The report noted loadings at Halifax and Saint John and three vessels were reported chartered for loading at Montreal on the resumption of spring navigation. "Space for shipment via the Great Lakes also is being chartered at 2,000,000 bushels already obtained. Ships at Port William and Port Arthur hold 1,020,740 bushels, ready for spring shipment."

Exports of Canadian wheat to the United States from August 1, a start of the 1935-36 crop year, to January 4, were placed at 24,685,220 bushels compared with 12,212,488 bushels for the same period in 1934.

Calendar year exports of wheat, according to the Dominion bureau of statistics, totalled 165,872,871 bushels valued at $137,152,807, compared with 167,913,055 bushels at $131,157,717 in 1934. The average price in 1935 was 83 cents a bushel compared with 78 cents a bushel in 1934, the bureau pointed out.

Continued exports held the answer to the carryover question. A recent survey by the Canadian grain board pointed out exports of 7,500,000 bushels weekly would be required to bring the carryover down to the neighborhood of 50,000,000 bushels at July 31, 1936.

Treaty With Poland

Trade Agreement Is Expected To Be Ratified Soon

Ottawa.—The next step of the Mackenzie King government to widen trade channels is expected to be promulgation of the agreement with Poland which was signed in Ottawa last summer but never ratified by the Polish parliament. Advances reaching the department of external affairs, it was learned, indicate early action to secure ratification.

Signed in Ottawa July 3 last by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett and Hon. R. B. Hanson, then respectively prime minister and minister of trade and commerce, the treaty already has passed through all legislative stages here. It was signed on behalf of Poland by Dr. Jerzy Adamkiewicz, Polish consul-general.

The treaty accords mutual most-favored-nation treatment and special tariffs on a list of commodities of both countries, as well as guaranteeing the rights of Polish nationals in Canada and Canadians in Poland.

Aviator Honored

Presentation To "Funch" Dicks At Edmonton Banquet

Edmonton.—Tangible recognition of his pioneering work in development of northern aviation was made to C. H. "Funch" Dicks, newly appointed superintendent of northern aviation for Canadian Airways, Limited, at a banquet here by President J. W. Glenwright, of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Glenwright, on behalf of the chamber members, presented a travelling case to the noted aviator who is leaving to reside in Winnipeg. "We have flyers here superior to any in the world and that's not taking in too much territory either," boasted Mr. Glenwright in making the presentation.

Democratic Convention

Philadelphia Is Chosen For Stage After Much Competition

Washington.—After a spirited and almost unprecedented "poker game", with table stakes so high as to all but wipe out the Democratic national convention, Philadelphia for its 1936 national convention.

The Pennsylvania city, never before the scene of a Democratic convention, won out over San Francisco, Chicago when party representatives finally voted a certified check for $200,000. Then, to meet higher bids, Philadelphia concessions, estimated to raise the total to between $250,000 and $300,000, were offered.

Party Chairman James R. Farley announced the Democratic caucus, intended to renominate President Roosevelt, would start June 23. The Republican party will meet in Cleveland, beginning June 8.

Before the bidding started, Farley, in opening the national committee's meeting, urged a "campaign of deflection" financed by the "largest slush fund on record."

To Probe Mine Disaster

Alberta Government Will Conduct Inquiry Into Coalburn Accident

Edmonton.—A judicial inquiry into the Coalburn mining disaster will be held by Mr. Justice Lunnay of the appellate division of Alberta Supreme Court. This decision was reached at a meeting of the executive council and announced by Premier Aberhart.

It is the intention of the government to have the inquiry get under way as soon as arrangements can be made by Mr. Justice Lunnay. The government will be represented at the inquiry, the premier stated, by one of the solicitors of the attorney-general's department.

War Operations In Ethiopia Halted By Rainy Weather

London.—The war is not going well for Italy. Despatches from Ethiopia report that rains are almost everywhere churning up roads and creating new and unexpected difficulties for the invaders.

From Germany, the Austrian Tyrol and Yugoslavia come stories of the flight of Italian conscripts across the frontier.

The Berlin correspondent of the Evening Standard learns "on unimpeachable authority" that two internment camps sheltering more than 1,000 Italian deserters have been established during the last month in the Bavarian mountains.

Major Sheppard, the Evening Standard's military correspondent, comments: "That the Italians are becoming seriously disturbed about the course of events is shown by the change in tone of expert military comment in Rome. All that the most optimistic of these comments now venture to forecast is a new and strictly limited offensive in the north before the end of the campaign season."

"Meanwhile," asserts Major Sheppard, "there are indications that all is not well with the Italian morale either in the theatre of war or among the new reinforcements."

"This, if true, is a matter of the utmost seriousness."

Rain clouds, he concludes, are not the only ones gathering in Ethiopia.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

IT COSTS nothing to smile. Some people with whom your opinions on many things may differ, will not give you a suspicion of a smile, no matter how you greet them. They wear that kill-joy expression of gloom which makes you think of graves, and you hurry away seeking a more cheerful atmosphere.

LIFE IS meant to be cheerful, and if dark shadows cross our paths, as they will at intervals, time heals the blows and man's normal attitude is to regain his cheerfulness. Yet there are some who live in a perpetual atmosphere of gloom. Why it is, normal people find it hard to fathom, and give it up with the thought that it certainly takes all kinds of people to make a world. A person who enshrouds himself in gloom really is the sufferer, for he is usually avoided by his more cheerful fellow-men. It is good to remember to always turn your face towards the sunshine, so that the shadows may fall behind you. It makes life so much more pleasant for all.

LAST WEEK a little bunch of sweet innocence stopped the writer on the street to show off her doll which she had been given as a Christmas present. She had it nicely wrapped in a shawl, and volunteered the information that it also had waterproof pants to keep it from getting its clothes wet. There was no modesty, false or otherwise, about the child. She had a little baby and the instinct of motherhood taught her to take as much care of that doll as if it were a living thing. There is often a sermon in the actions of little children, reminding one of the text: "A little child shall lead them."

THIS WEEK The Journal received a friendly letter from Mr. George G. Coote, ex-M. P. for Macleod Federal riding. After fourteen years service as the people's representative, he takes up his private duties on his farm, a sadder and wiser man, but with fighting spirit unquenched. The writer was not among his political supporters, though we were always pleased to extend to him the courtesies of The Press, for he did not allow partizanship to bias his personal feelings towards those who opposed him. Always prompt to reply to any enquiry concerning political matters affecting his constituents, he displayed that courtesy which endeared him to political friend and foe alike. Maybe the farmers who rejected him at the last election will yet have cause to thank him for the work he did in the House of Commons towards monetary reform. A man who fights fairly and squarely never has cause to reproach himself, and one of the bright spots in George Coote's life since his retirement from public life are the tributes he has received from men in high places as well as his friends in the humbler walks of life. He was sincere—he was genuine. Political bombast and chicanery were detestable to a man of his type.

IT IS but a comparatively short time since a large number of people in the Pass towns were following the leadership of a rather wild-eyed fanatic whose pernicious teachings were on a fair way to wrecking the coal industry, if he had his way, and "busting up" every union in the province. Many of the same people who either fell for such mouthings or sat astride the fence to see which way the cat would jump are quite as ready now to swallow any old bait thrown out to them, without thinking out the course they should pursue. True enough, ninety percent of the people are led, and the disagreeable minority who disagree with their pet fads are rotters and what not. Most amusing it is to just review a few short years and the chameleon-like changes of the mob.

THERE IS only one way to overcome trouble, and that is to sit down quietly and think out a solution to your problem, and follow it up with action. Your time will be well spent in devoting time each day to self-study.

THIS WEEK-END the weekly newspaper publishers of Alberta will meet in annual convention at Edmonton. As they all face a cut in advertising revenue due to Premier Aberhart's unfriendly attitude towards all newspapers, which he would like to put out of business, for they cause him much uneasiness, it is not expected he will welcome them as head of the government. In past years it has been customary for the Premier or a cabinet minister to extend the friendly gesture towards the newspaper men. The public have heard the premier's denunciation of newspapers in general, because they have reported him too freely for his liking, and because they would not refrain from justified criticism such as any political party experiences. If newspapers would reflect Mr. Aberhart's opinion like rubber stamps, it would be lovely. But then the boys can take it; they develop rhinoceros hides.

AND SO we come to the end of our weekly comment, on all things great and wonderful. A day or two in Edmonton will doubtless be enlightening, provided we escape being clamped in the Bastille.

Alan Gillis Died Saturday

Alan Frederick, 13 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gillis, of Blairmore, died early on Jan. 13, after two weeks illness, rheumatic fever being reported as the cause of death. Heartfelt sympathy is extended by a large circle of friends and acquaintances throughout the Pass towns, in the untimely death of a bright and promising boy. In addition to his parents, he is survived by his older brother, Donald. The funeral was held on Monday, the service being conducted by Rev. Father Harrington at St. Anne's church, burial being in Blairmore Catholic cemetery.

The pall bearers were six choir boys from the church, at which Alan had been an altar boy. Requiem High Mass was held, the body being conveyed from the house to the church with mourners and friends following.

Mrs. L. L. Morgan sang the solo parts in the service. Friends from the Pass towns attended the service, in addition to many from Blairmore.

COLEMAN HARDWARE CO.
Wilfred Dutil, proprietor, was established here first by the late H. G. Goodve, later being purchased by the late Louis Dutil, who also owned the Blairmore Hardware Co. The stores being owned by the Dutil family. On completion of his course of studies at the University of Alberta, Wilfred took over the Coleman store's active management in 1928 and was subsequently married to Miss Blanche Machin. The Coleman Hardware Co. store is one of the older retail establishments in town, and under Mr. Dutil's direction serves a large number of customers in hardware and furniture. The commodious store on Main street carries a fine stock of shelf and heavy hardware, and Wilfred by his pleasant personality has made many friends both in business and in social circles. In fraternal circles he takes an active part in Elks Lodge.

The Blairmore Hardware Co. is managed by R. C. (Dick) Olds, who a few years ago was married to Miss Julia Dutil, youngest daughter of Mrs. D. Dutil, who has made her home in Blairmore since her late husband first opened in business in the Pass towns.

With the general improvement in Coleman, this store aims to better serve its customers by anticipating their needs in the goods it handles, with bigger and better stocks.

Mr. and Mrs. Coote Silver Wedding

Two of Nanton's leading and most deeply respected citizens celebrated at their home in Nanton on December 19th, marking the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Coote. Both Mr. and Mrs. Coote have by their kindness and interest in community life won the regard of all who have known them. Some 25 guests partook of a turkey supper. Mr. A. E. White on behalf of the guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Coote with a handsome silver tray. — High River Times

Miss Lois Thomas of Vancouver has been visiting her parents here. With colder weather the rink is being more liberally patronized, and on Sunday night the ice was crowded. Curling is also going very strong in the McGillivray Cup competition, keen rivalry being displayed in several games this week with close scoring. It makes one realize that the rink is a splendid asset for winter sport, deserving the liberal support of the people.

WHO PAYS THE ADVERTISING BILLS?

THE NON-ADVERTISER pays the bills of those who do advertise.

WHY? Because the share of business he would get by advertising goes to his more aggressive competitor. The Journal has tried to impress this on non-advertisers, whose businesses languish for lack of aggressive policies. Outside firms will take space in country weekly newspapers if they see there is a good field for retail merchandising, and thereby further decrease local retail business. A newspaper's stock in trade is its white space. Be wise and use it in your own interests.

Swedish Folk Celebrate

Historic Event Of Four Centuries Ago Is Repeated

On Christmas morning, 1520, as the country folk of Mora, in Sweden's Dalecarlia, were coming home from church, begins the historic tale of Gustaf Vasa, Sweden's liberator. His offer of leadership and his rejection of his despair and escape to the mountains, and the message next day, confirming his country's wrongs, are vivid chapters in Swedish folklore history. The fleetest ski-runners of the provinces were two days later sent to bid him welcome and ask his return.

At Salem, near the Norwegian border, they overtook him. This season on Christmas morning the great run was made again by the best skiers of the nation to honor Sweden's national hero, and introduced the northland's largest program of winter sports scheduled in Scandinavia since the Olympic winter games of 1912.

Railway Crossing Accidents

Increase Is Reported In 1935 Over Previous Year

An increase of 28 was recorded in 1935 in the number of motor accidents at railway crossings across Canada. In 1934, they totalled 214, but jumped to 242 last year.

A total of 114 persons were killed and 304 injured as a result of the 1935 mishaps. Both aggregates were higher than in 1934, when 81 were killed and 262 injured.

The rise is attributed to the increased use of the automobile. An analysis of records of the board of railway commissioners, where the figures were obtained, shows the vacation months of August and September, and November, when roads become slippery and weather bad, are the worst months of the year.

Historic Scene Reconstructed

Royal Bank Calendar Depicts Opening Of Canada's First Railroad

Was Canada's first railroad opened in 1836 or 1837? Were the cars hauled by a locomotive or by horses on the inaugural run? How big was the locomotive and did it break down or not?

These and many similar questions which have centered around the opening of Canada's first railroad a century ago find their answer in a new calendar just issued by The Royal Bank of Canada. Executed by Sheriff Scott, one of Canada's foremost painters of historic subjects, this year's calendar picture depicts the colorful scene at Laprairie when the first train of the Champlain & St. Lawrence Railroad steamed out on her inaugural run.

On many important aspects of this opening ceremony, on the character of the locomotive itself and even on the events which transpired, historians differ. Indeed, some doubt has hitherto existed as to the exact date of the opening of this short fifteen mile line between Laprairie, Que., and St. Johns near the head of Lake Champlain.

Faced with these difficulties and in order to ensure the accuracy of this opening ceremony, The Royal Bank went to original sources. For the actual dimensions and structural details of the "Dorchester" which hauled the first train, the artist used the actual working drawings supplied by the firm of Robert Stephenson & Company of Great Britain, from whose shops the "Dorchester" came early in 1836. For reliable information on the events of the day, reference was made to the yellowing files of the Montreal "Courier" and "Gazette" for July 23, 1836, which carried complete eyewitness accounts.

These accounts demonstrated clearly that the actual opening ceremony took place on Thursday, July 21, 1836, and that the locomotive "Dorchester," contrary to the generally held belief, did not haul the train on that occasion. They also revealed that prominent amongst the officials present were the Governor-General, the Earl of Gosford, Sir George Gipps, veteran of the Peninsula War and Sir Charles Grey, formerly a supreme judge of the Court of Madras. These three had come to Canada in 1835 as a commission to enquire into the grievances that were agitating the colony and which were soon to culminate in open rebellion.

Peter McGill, chairman of the railway company, and later mayor of Montreal was also present. His story, as it appeared in the "Gazette" of a hundred years ago, is reproduced in essence on the calendar. The relative dimensions of the "Dorchester" and the locomotive of the present day are also provided and strikingly demonstrate the pygmy size of Canada's first passenger locomotive. Somewhat larger than a Baby Austin, yet smaller than a Ford, a grown man could easily see over the boiler of the "Dorchester". She was only 13' 10" long as compared with the 90 foot giants commonly used today by both Canadian railways. And yet, for all her diminutive size, she performed heroic service and over a period of one week in her first year of operation, she travelled 8,600 miles and hauled 15,928 passengers and freight.

Additional interest is given to this year's calendar picture by the fact that plans are now going forward for a centenary celebration next July.

SELECTED RECIPES

BASIC SPONGE RECIPES

A large variety of attractive breads, rolls, coffee-cakes etc., can be prepared by using one general sponge recipe, which being the "base" or start of the operation, is termed "Basic Sponge".

With this "Basic Sponge" the housewife is able to produce very simply and easily a variety of attractive breads and cakes. In fact, there is no end to the possibilities opened up by this "Basic" recipe.

1 cake of Royal Yeast
1 cup of lukewarm water
1 cup of milk
1 tablespoon sugar
4 cups of sifted bread flour

Soak the yeast cake for 15 minutes in the lukewarm water.

Dissolve the sugar in the milk and add same to the dissolved yeast cake. Add the flour and beat thoroughly into a batter. Cover and let rise in a warm place, free from draughts overnight or until doubled in bulk.

If this batter is started at 9 to 10 p.m. it will be ready to use 7 or 8 o'clock the following morning.

It is advisable to add 1 teaspoonful of salt to the above sponge in warm weather as this helps to prevent excessive fermentation.

Has Become Linguist

Toronto News Picks Up Smattering Of Six Languages

This business of riding up and down the country's railroads, peddling pop and peanuts, has developed Harry Hill, Toronto veteran newspaper agent, into somewhat of a linguist.

Hill, who at present travels on the Canadian National Railway train between Windsor and Toronto, has picked up a smattering of six different languages, not including English, during his 28 years of railroading.

The genial, white-haired Hill can peddle his wares in French, Russian, Ukrainian, Polish, Chinese and Italian. Endowed with a wonderful memory he memorizes whole sentences after hearing them once or twice.

He has travelled all through the Maritimes and as far west as Winnipeg and it was during the hey-day of immigration when the peoples of many nations were flocking into this country that he first acquired a fair knowledge of the languages.

"I found these different races were delighted and pleased that somebody could understand and converse with them in their own tongue," reminisced Hill.

Hill got his first taste of railroading when he became a "red-cap." Today, if he had the means to retire he says he would enroll at some school of languages and improve his knowledge of those tongues he already knows.

South America Now Thought To Hold World's Greatest Quantity

Dr. Otto Vogt Von Sickening, Baverford, Pa., bacteriologist, has discovered what he believes to be the largest radium deposit in the world along the Corentyn river in South America.

On his arrival in Boston, he declined to disclose the exact location of the deposit until terms are agreed upon with the government in whose territory it is centred. The Corentyn river borders Dutch and British Guiana.

Dr. Von Sickening also said he had discovered a possible cure for infantile paralysis in a drug prepared by boiling the skin of a South American reptile.

The new municipal indoor swimming pool at Milan, reputed to be one of the three finest in the world, has been ordered closed during the present national crisis in order to effect economies in light, power and heating.

The swimming pool was opened in October, 1934, and occupies an entire building newly erected on the site of the old railroad station torn down four years ago.

It has an electrically operated sectional sliding roof of translucent glass, a visitors' gallery of concrete similar to a grandstand which surrounds the pool itself, and 1,000 small individual dressing rooms.

Tennyson's Home For Rent

House At Farrington Always Associated With His Works

Tennyson's home at Freshwater, in the Isle of Wight, is for rent. It has long been a shrine to which many journey.

At Farrington, the name of the place, just off the main road from Freshwater to Alum Bay, sheltered by fine old trees which the poet loved and immortalized in his verse, he did much of his best work. His name is irrevocably associated with his, for it was during the last 40 years of his life—his period of residence there—that he acquired his prestige.

The poet's connection with Farrington dates from November, 1853, when he rented it. Three years afterward he bought the house and estate outright.

Crocheting Tomorrow's Heirloom

PATTERN 5254

What more conducive to "forty winks" than this fluffy, lacy Afghan! Its crocheted warmth will ward off the most treacherous draughts. Its color brightens and gladdens any room it adorns. A very simple pattern to follow. The stripes look like tiny daisies strung together, and are in a crochet stitch which busy hands will soon learn to do by heart. Lovely in three shades of one color, it is also effective with each stripe a different color.

In pattern 5254 you will find directions for making the Afghan; an illustration of it and of the stitches used; material requirements, and color suggestions.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JANUARY 19

JESUS PREPARES FOR HIS WORK

Golden text: Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve. Luke 4:8.

Lesson: Luke 3:1-4:15.

Devotional reading: Hebrews 2:10-18.

Explanations And Comments

The Baptism of Jesus, Luke 3:21. 22. While crowds were being baptized by John, Jesus came and was baptized also. See the account in Matthew. "In his baptism Jesus was ending his quiet years of preparation at Nazareth and was about to enter the ministry of sacrifice which was to be performed in obedience to the will of his Father. It is for this reason that Luke, with the art of a skillful historian, first completed the story of John, the great forerunner, before mentioning that which in reality was the supreme incident in the career of John—his baptism of Jesus. That incident introduced Jesus into the ministry and that ministry was to form the very substance of the Gospel.

Luke does not describe the baptism. He merely mentions it to designate the time when Jesus saw the descending Spirit and heard the voice from heaven. We are not to suppose that Jesus before had lacked the presence of the Holy Spirit, nor that he was the Son of God; as he had shown his sympathy with penitent sinners, he now was declared to be the sinless One in whom God was well pleased." (C. R. Erdman).

Potatoes In Five Colors

White Inside But Have Red, White And Blue And Green Skins

Color was given to the potato market at Charlottetown as the five different hues of potatoes—red, white, blue, green and black—were marketed by Prince Edward Island farmers. The first four varieties are shipped to various sections of Canada and the United States, and the latter color grown for a limited local trade.

While the skins have different hues, the potatoes, once peeled, are white, with perhaps a slight coloring noticeable in the blue and black varieties. For this the blues are popular in the Maritime provinces and Newfoundland where gourmards claim they have the finest flavor of any grown.

More generally known and main source of revenue for Island potato growers are Green Mountains. Shipments are made throughout Canada, Eastern and Southern United States and West Indies. Seed potatoes of this variety are in wide demand and command a substantial premium over table stock. Cobblers, the "whites" are second in popularity.

Reds, a heavy yielder, are doubly welcome this year with potatoes selling at 50 to 60 cents a bushel, compared to 40 cents last year. Although a lighter crop than usual has been harvested, farmers are marketing the first paying crop in years; the green and black tubers are not forgotten when the growers exclaim: "Turrah for red, white and blue."

Expert At Gift Wrapping

Girl Kept Busy At Job She Created For Herself

A girl who had learned to wrap up packages beautifully let it be known last gift season that she would go to anyone's house with a supply of gift wrappings and do up all the gifts that were to be sent out. When she arrived, the owners could suggest colors if they wished. She carried a line of pretty boxes and some cards to accompany the gifts if they were desired. When a tired shopper for Christmas gifts came home and laid out all her purchases and tagged them with the proper names, she found great relief in seeing someone who knew how, doing them all up in pretty papers, and tied with lovely bows. This girl also packed gifts for sending away, and her packing of an entire box for a distant family never fails always paid for itself, as she knew the art so well that she knew the tricks of saving postage and express by packing safely, but lightly.

Making Sure Of Supply

Great Britain Storing Billion Gallons Of Oil For Navy

The London Daily Herald reported that storage facilities for 1,000,000 gallons of oil are being constructed underground near Plymouth Sound in order to provide the navy with petroleum.

Steel tanks are being embedded in reinforced concrete with a pipeline running toward the coast, the newspaper said, replacing the present tanks above ground which are conspicuous landmarks from the air.

A Star Attraction

Dionne Quintuplets Bring Money To Ontario Government

The Dionne quintuplets, who brought money to many during 1935, did so grandly by the Ontario government, the province's hotel keepers, store owners, service station proprietors and almost everybody who sold anything on the roads that led to their birthplace.

Over a four-month period, from June to September, 95,076 automobiles rolled their way around Dufave hospital and some 380,304 persons stepped out for a glance at the world's most famous babes.

In June, an average of 570 cars a day stopped at the Quintuplet home. The number crept to 710 a day in July and burst to a high of 1,486 a day during August. As summer left, so did the visitors, and only 329 cars a day were seen during September. These figures, compiled by the Ontario tourist bureau, dropped at least 74,307 into the coffers of the Ontario department of highways in the four months, and almost $1,000,000 into the pockets of the province's business men and women.

Estimates place the number of United States visitors as 95 per cent. of the total. With the nearest entrance into Canada some 300 miles from this northern Ontario village, the automobile would need at least 15 gallons of gasoline on a two-day trip. More like it took 25.

That meant 1,238,450 gallons from the pumps on the way to Callander. For every gallon, the highway department took six cents, a total of $74,307 from those who made the trip. You could add $25,000 from Canadian visitors and total almost $100,000 in just four months.

Basing the total number of visitors on four to a car, it left some $800,760 for various people such as the hotelkeeper and restaurant proprietor. It's an overnight stop from almost anywhere to Callander and back, and if your expenses run under $2.50 a person, you're thrifty.

Considered Poor Risk

Insurance Men Are Not Interested In Steeplejack

Insurance men in Halifax, N.S., cross to the other side of the street when they spot Frank Quigley. They're just not interested in selling him a policy.

For his job is one of the riskiest—so hazardous that no company will write him a policy. He's a steeplejack, and he goes about his business swinging at the end of a rope anywhere from 100 to 500 feet above ground.

It doesn't matter much to him how high it is. "If you fall from 100," says the 25-year-old steeplejack, "you're through anyway, so you might as well go higher."

He has been climbing since he was eight years old. The job fascinated him first as a small boy in Montreal, where he used to watch the "Jacks" climb spires. As soon as he was big enough, he got into the game himself.

Since then, he has never had an accident, though he has gone up 500 feet at Sudbury, Ont., 265 at Saint John, N.B., and 210 feet at Trenton, N.S. But that's no inducement to the insurance men. You only have one accident in Quigley's business.

The Emblem Of Silence

Story Explains Why Term Sub Rosa Means Secret

When in the year 447 B.C. Pausanias and Xerxes were plotting for the subjugation of Greece to Persian rule, the intrigue was carried on in a building whose roof was a garden and a bower of roses. Xerxes in cautioning silence haphazardly referred to the roses above them, so that between these men the significance of the flower came to secrecy. It afterward became the custom of the Athenians to wear roses in their hair whenever they wished the communications among themselves to be kept inviolate. Then an ancient myth has it that Cupid gave Harpocrates, the god of Silence, a rose for a bribe not to betray Venus. Thus the rose has become an emblem of silence; and things done and said sub rosa, "Under the Rose", are secret and confidential.

INSTANTLY YOU CATCH COLD DO THESE 2 THINGS

1. Take two "Aspirin" Tablets. Make sure you get "Aspirin."

2. Drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

Instead of using fancy priced "cold remedies" try the new-day cold treatment pictured here. Your own doctor will approve it. You start taking the average cold or sore throat almost as fast as you caught it.

The Aspirin you take will start combating your cold internally at once; if throat is sore, crush and stir 3 Aspirin Tablets in a third of a glass of water; gargle twice. Do not rinse mouth.

Aspirin Tablets are made in Canada. Aspirin is the registered trademark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

FLEMING'S FOLLY

— BY —
LAWRENCE A. KEATING

SYNOPSIS

Here is an absorbing and exciting story of a fight against stubborn prejudice and a bitter personal malice—of a girl and a man battling ridicule, sabotage, bullets, and the treachery that would turn them against each other.

The story opens with Link Fleming addressing a meeting of Boone County cattlemen together with the object of forming an irrigation company.

Roper Kilgo, the boss of the Rawhide and nearby ranches who seemed to approve the plan, but was really opposed to it, had forced Scott Torney, a derelict mining engineer, whom Kilgo knew would be called upon to give his expert opinion in favor of the scheme, to reverse his earlier endorsement, and declare that irrigation in Boone county so far as Hamilton a plan was concerned, was only a new-fangled way to waste money.

The meeting terminated, but Buzz Hamilton and his sister, Helen, Link and Kilgo stay behind and Helen asks Fleming questions about his irrigation plan. This angers Buzz, who accuses Fleming of trying to influence his sister and, as he asserts, ruin her. Buzz shoots at Fleming in an uncontrollable fit of anger, but Buster Townsend, Link's friend, is shot in the stomach and Fleming is uninjured. Buzz is arrested. The doctor attends Townsend and dresses his wound. Kilgo Roper suggests taking Helen to her home, but she refuses and Fleming escorts her home instead. This incident causes Roper to declare open hostility to Fleming. Helen and Fleming form a partnership to provide irrigation for their own properties. Link goes home, and is surprised to find Kilgo there ahead of him. Kilgo tries to force Link to drop his scheme, and when Fleming refuses, gives a signal by taking off his hat, and Link is shot at from outside the house.

There was a short silence. "Don't know why yuh think I want your scalp, Link," he complained. "Course there may be guys that do. I wouldn't go so far as to name 'em, but you know as well as I do, you ain't too popular with friends and neighbors here. Some of the guys are mean because you tried to trick 'em into that fool irrigation scheme that would cost sixty thousand bucks and wouldn't be worth a nickel. Maybe some'll blame you for gettin' Buzz shot. He tried to shoot me before. Can't explain how folks are apt to look at a thing," he reminded ironically.

Fleming waited. Roper moved nearer. "I need more range for my cows, Link, and your grass looks pretty good to me. Specially I need more if we have trouble about that foothill order from the government. And I reckon Uncle Sam means business. Uh—yore health might suffer from a hard winter, if we'd have one. Guys have found out before this they couldn't stand the climate here in Boone County. So I just thought I'd drop in to talk it over with yuh."

"Buyin' you out. Want to sell, Link?" His grin had an evil, mocking glint to it.

"Willing to sell anything I have for the right price," was the prompt answer.

WHY MOTHERHOOD?

THE period in a woman's life just before her child is born need not be a time of illness and anxiety. At such a time it is essential that good health and good spirits be maintained. The tonic effect of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription nourishes and strengthens the body, the expectant mother, who, of course, that is also strengthening the child. And as girls grow into women, and for women in middle life going through the "change," Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the vegetable tonic, liquid, by Dr. Pierce.

the season's first dribbling flakes of snow.

Link sat a few feet from Buzz, who was between Sheriff Stephen and Deputy Amos Hintz. Near him Helen Hamilton, poised and white-faced and tense. The trial was over; Buzz had been found guilty. Silence reigned as Judge Parkhill prepared to pass sentence.

It had been with great reluctance that Fleming testified in regard to the shooting. He tried to make it appear accidental, but as the sheriff commented cryptically, "A man don't draw on another just by accident. Yore Honor." And there had been Buster Townsend's story, brought to the courtroom in writing. Buzz, he declared, tried to kill Fleming. The jury had so decided.

"Stand before the court to have sentence passed upon you, Arnold Hamilton."

Buzz rose. His thin lips twitched and his face was pale. His attitude was cringing and fearful, quite the reverse of his former aggressiveness. Judge Parkhill cleared his throat and leaned forward. He fixed stern grey eyes on the prisoner. "The jury has found you guilty of attempting to murder Lincoln Fleming. Have you anything to say?" Hamilton merely stared down at his hands.

"According to the law it is now my duty to impose sentence. It is the order of this court that you be remanded to the charge of the warden of the State Penitentiary, there to be held prisoner for three years, sentence to begin at once!"

"And when you get free, young fellow," the Judge added with severity, "I warn you to remember this country isn't wide open. The sheriff's duty is to maintain order. That means no careless handling of deadly weapons. Take the prisoner away!"

A rustle of whispering went around the room. "Three years," Stephen snapped disgustedly. "Say, he should've got ten!"

"Court adjourned!" Spectators rose and began to file. As Hintz jerked Buzz to his feet Helen stepped to him and threw her arms around him. There was a brief, touching exchange of whispered farewell; then the sheriff gently pushed her away. A moment later Amos accompanied Buzz out of the room. He would be started for the penitentiary at once, to be gone three years. . . .

Fleming concluded to wait outside and took himself down the rear stairway. Pausing to build a cigarette, he heard others descend in his wake. Roper Kilgo's booming tones carried to his ears as the man sought to comfort him. There was a brief, touching exchange of whispered farewell; then the sheriff gently pushed her away. A moment later Amos accompanied Buzz out of the room. He would be started for the penitentiary at once, to be gone three years. . . .

"If Link wasn't on hand to speak his piece, Buzz might've got off. Townsend ain't gonna die—he's too tough. Why didn't Fleming just stay away from the trial?"

They paused just inside while the girl donned her coat. "Helen, it looks to be like he framed this whole thing. Scott Torney may be hard on Link, but he ain't a foul one. He was primed what to say, but when he got up in front of all them men, he decided to tell the truth. He ain't showed up since. Why? Must be he's afraid something'll happen to him!"

"What do you mean, spoiled, and yore Triple H the logic speaker, help him pay for the plan, Link. I figured right off he needed to get you in charge. Buzz was wise to him, of course. So Link gets Buzz rose enough to draw. Townsend was waitin' handy to jump on him. Up shot is, yore runnin' the Triple H now, and Fleming will try to, talk yuh into puttin' money in that dam he wants to build."

"But, Roper, he has no influence over me. . . ."

"Been writin' yuh letters, ain't he? Got yuh sold on the proposition even before yuh got home. He knew I wouldn't let yuh join up on a loco scheme like that, nor Buzz. We're lookin' after yore welfare."

"To show me I got yore interest at heart," he went on impressively, "I tried to buy Link's ranch the yore night you came home. So yuh wouldn't have him hangin' around, botherin' yuh. Offered him a high price, cash. He turned it down. Can you beat that?"

"But, Roper, he has no influence over me. . . ."

"Just a little disagreement. Kind of a warning. I'm not hurt, but it may be Roper'll have to stand in his stirrups half way to town. Did you find that rifleman?"

"New"—disgustedly. "We'll go after him again."

"Afraid he'll get the lamp and say yourselves the trouble. Good night!"

They left the room and could be heard growling as they went toward the bunkhouse. An ironic, musing smile hovered on Fleming's lips as he strolled into the kitchen and set about preparing his belated evening meal.

"Kilgo never did have much sense of humor," he muttered, measuring coffee into the pot. "I'll bet he takes this real serious, and makes trouble. Or tries to, anyhow."

CHAPTER V.

Judge Parkhill's courtroom in the ramshackle county building at Atlas was filled with interested spectators as the trial of Buzz Hamilton for attempted murder drew to a close. Punctures which bullets were light since the end of the recent roundup sat with employers equally free from the activities of summer cattle-raising. Otto Pieper, who was an attorney as well as a banker, slumped in his chair and sighed. Through the high dusty windows could be seen

"How much did you offer him? Perhaps it wasn't what the place is worth."

"That collection of buzzard meat he calls cows?" He laughed mirthlessly. "A bunch of buzzards to feed on? I offered him twenty thousand cash. And would he take—"

Emerging through the doorway, his startled eyes found Link. "You offered me twenty thousand cash, eh, Roper? What?"

"Why—uh—? Quickly he changed his tone to a bluster. "Yuh know darn well I did!"

"That's funny. I understood you to offer me three thousand. In fact I'm positive that's what you said."

His red face deepened in hue. "Yuh claim I'm a liar, Fleming?"

"You might call that that—yes."

Helen uttered a gasp. She would have thrown herself between the two men, but with an oath Kilgo had already leaped out one box-like fast.

It struck a glancing blow to his opponent's shoulder. Link retreated, his arms raised in defense as if he was afraid. Roper waded in, sending blow after blow. "Yuh yellow-bellied scoundrel!"

Fleming braced himself. With lightning speed he shot a feline at the man's chest. Roper struck it away—left his chin exposed—and received a club-like blow just under his mouth. Exhaling air, he staggered. His shoulder jarred Helen before he brought up with a crash against the courthouse. For an instant it seemed he would be out; but somehow Kilgo clung to consciousness. And as the dim of daze lifted from his eyes and he spied Link watching him, Roper said a word to his side—

"Hold on, Kilgo!"

Prospectors Crowd Into North

Young Men And Old Veterans Looking For Gold

Gold, the yellow-tint of the North country, which has sent thousands of men from Edmonton in the last few years, holds the 1936 northern spotlight as preparations are made for a new season.

Reports of fabulous finds, made during the 1935 season, many of which have yet to be proved by actual mining operations, are bringing prospectors from east and west, men young in the search for the gold of the north.

By land, train, waterways and airplane, they will make their way to Edmonton, the "gateway to the north." Some will make a winter of it, others, others will wait the spring break-up.

The rush for fortune—hidden in the rocks of the north—means trade for the Gateway City. Thousands of dollars are spent by the gold hunters in Alberta's capital.

The discovery of gold changed an isolated trading post known as Beaver Lodge, on the north shore of Lake Athabasca, astride the Saskatchewan-Alberta boundary, to a thriving town which was named Goldfields.

Even an original population of less than a dozen traders and trappers, Goldfields-to-day has a community of 300 men and women, with newcomers adding to the census count each month. It is 450 miles from Edmonton by air.

Fortune has followed some into Goldfields. Others have struck it lucky.

Nearly two decades ago the area was searched for the yellow metal of wealth. Tragedy ended the early search when Paul Piche, a French-Canadian trapper and prospector, took his life after an unsuccessful hunt for capital to back his venture. To-day's cabin, abandoned years ago, is in the centre of the discovery area. Piche took a fast way out. Overlooking the field that he believed would bring his fortune, the old-time prospector prepared a box of dynamite, his last, calmly sat atop and fired the fuse.

Other prospectors that will attract the 1936 adventurers in the north are Pond Du Lac, in the Goldfields area; Neely Lake, and away in the far north, Great Lake; Outpost Island, and the new discovery place, Yellow Knife River, where eastern interests, headed by Toronto men, plan an extensive search next spring.

Turks In Greece

It is somewhat ironic that if one wants now to see a piece of authentic "beauty" in the Turkish peninsula, or a veiled Turkish woman, must look for it in Greece. For since fezzes and veils were banished from Turkey by Mustafa Kemal, Istanbul has become a cosmopolitan city and Turkish peasant indistinguishable from European.

A Peep Into The Future

Wonderful Things Are Predicted For The Next Fifty Years

Within 50 years you will breathe "pasteurized air" and probably will be able to pack your own private aeroplane under your arm like a Christmas package.

These were among predictions of what may be looked for in the next 50 years, made by A. W. Robertson, chairman of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

"In the next 50 years," he said in an address, "moving stairways will be common. Sidewalks also will be come moving."

"When you want your auto you will pull it down with a skyhook from where it is stored or parked in an overhead apparatus. The streets will be free for the cars to run."

"The air will be pasteurized. Air conditioning will make unbelievable advances. You probably will find it healthier to stay indoors than breathe fumes outdoors."

"Artificial light will become a counterpart of sunlight. With the equivalent of the sun produced indoors there will be no need for windows for light."

"Elevators will run at incredible speeds. Highways will be lighted almost as in the daytime."

"Leisure may become so common that you will work to escape sheer ennui."

"There may be individual flying machines, with folding wings, that you can pack under your arms."

"Tomorrow will depend more and more upon the vacuum tube to do the most delicate operations of industry. These tubes may see, hear, feel, smell, taste. Last humans think of them as the developers of a robot age. It is well to remember that mechanical and electrical contrivances can act but cannot think."

Flood Losses In China

Loss Of Life And Property Reaches High Figure

China, talking stock of the nation's flood losses during 1935, finds the money loss alone exceeds $450,000,000. The loss of human life is incalculable and is not yet ended, for many of the flooded areas are suffering from famine, and death from starvation will almost certainly total tens of thousands before spring.

Surveys show that nearly 10,000,000 acres of farm lands were ruinously inundated in two river valleys—7,400,000 acres by the Yangtze river and 2,550,000 acres by the Yellow river.

The flooded areas in the Yangtze basin are draining slowly and may be expected to yield spring crops, but most of the area flooded by the Yellow river will remain under water indefinitely. Even now nearly 4,000,000 people are in danger of starvation in this area.

Flood control experts estimate it would take $250,000,000 to overcome the annual menace, a sum far beyond anything China can raise at one time.

Took More Time

The young lieutenant had been 30 seconds late on parade and was incurring the wrath of the C.O. later in the orderly room.

"I'm exceedingly sorry, sir," he apologized, "but I woke so late there was only ten minutes to dress."

"Ten minutes," barked the Colonel. "Why, boy, I can dress comfortably in 10 minutes."

"Yes, sir," said the lieutenant, innocently. "But I wash, sir."

No Argument

Two boys appeared to be in trouble. "Here, what is the argument?" asked an elderly gentleman.

"There's no argument, sir," replied one of the young rascals. "We are in complete agreement. Billy thinks I am not going to give him half this apple—and I think the same."

Little Helps For This Week

Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry, for anger resteth in the bosom of fools. Ecclesiastes 7:9.

Quench thou the fires of hate and strife.

The waiting fever of the heart: From perils guard your feeble life. And to our souls Thy peace impart.

When you are offended or annoyed by others do not suffer your thoughts to dwell thereon, or on anything relating to them, for all this is fuel and kindling of wrath, anger and hatred. Struggle diligently against your impatience, and strive to be gentle and amiable, in season and out of season, toward everyone however they may vex and annoy you, and be sure God will bless your efforts.

The Union Jack

British Flag Is To Lose Its Ancient

A sensation burst upon Britain with the discovery the imperial red of the Union Jack is to lose its ancient redness.

The change is a result of a government order substituting other dyes for those previously used to color the flag hunting, in an attempt to save money.

The British color council refused to accept the resulting tint as red, saying it was a mere dirty brown or rusty color. The council insisted the traditional red, white and blue, pride of the monarch's operations of industry. These tubes may see, hear, feel, smell, taste. Last humans think of them as the developers of a robot age. It is well to remember that mechanical and electrical contrivances can act but cannot think."

Substitution of a synthetic dye for the brilliant, but costly cochineal hitherto used was decided upon by an inter-governmental technical co-ordinating committee, originally set up at the instance of the war department.

A Ghost Ray

Scientist Discovers Ray That Will Make Human Body Invisible

A "ghost ray" capable of rendering the human body invisible was reported an accomplished fact by the army in London of Dr. Stefan Pribil, distinguished Hungarian scientist.

Dr. Pribil, it is said, stumbled on the ray by simple experiments with mercury vacuum lamps in his Budapest laboratory. He noticed certain spots of light in the appearance and then faded entirely from sight when subject to rays whose exact nature he has not yet been able to determine.

Later the scientist experimented with two men. He was said to have succeeded in making them invisible for brief periods.

The European starlings are often denounced as undesirable bird allies, but they are among the 17 kinds of birds that will eat Japanese beetles.

AND HE MAY HAVE BEEN A WIGGLER

Sunday School teachers often become discouraged wondering if they are doing any good. They think because the pupils wiggle and whisper that the lesson isn't being heard.

The following from the Lachute (Que.) Watchman will prove of special interest to such teachers:

Humorous Incident in Renovating Church.—In connection with the renovations to Holy Trinity Church at Lakefield, the following humorous circumstance has come to light: Mr. Bolton, the architect, went to select and purchase the paint for this job. He said to the paint dealer, "I want 40 gallons for a poor country church, so you must let me have it near wholesale."

The man asked where the church was located and the architect replied "at Lakefield." "Is that the place where an old man named Mount used to preach?" "Why, yes," said Mr. Bolton. "Well, then, you don't get it wholesale." Then the man's face softened and he added smiling, "You get it for nothing!"

As the conversation continued, it was revealed that Rev. A. E.
Mount was at one time the man's Sunday School teacher.

PEACE PROPONENTS WIN AGAIN

A few people in the world thrive on war and bloodshed. First and foremost are a certain type of munition makers who know that ways will be found to keep them and their from breathing poison gas or being thrust through by bayonets. Then there are the hanger-on hounds of hell who feel that their business interests will be furthered by war and don't care what mother's tears or whose blood is spilt to thus make business better.

Another class that doesn't object to see war come are those under-ling jingo officers who see no chance of promotion save through strife.

Among the lovers of peace are those who believe that the best safeguard against war is to have one's individual nation strongly armed so that no one dare attack.
There are also those who advocate disarmament even to the point of a great nation like the U.S. setting the example. (Until more people of all nations are like-minded that process would invite what Japan is doing to China).

The third class of peace lovers are those who believe in nations bent on peace—particularly in one hemisphere—working together by every means to be a peace police force.

People of this latter class will be pleased to note that Clement R.
Attle, a man of tact and shrewdness, has been elected to the British Parliament to represent the British Laborites. According to the New York Times: "Mr. Attle is 52, has lectured on social economics at the London School of Econoics, served in the World War, belongs to the Fabian Society, worked for organizing a Pipe Band. All in India with the Simon Commission and entered the Cabinet in a minor post in May, 1930. The following year he advanced to Postmaster-General. He is a foe of the British munitions manufacturers and a supporter of the League and collective security."

Cultivate a personal interest in the store ads—for that will be merely an important way of safeguarding your purse from the little leaks that occur through unwise buying.
